Overview

1.1 Chair's foreword

On behalf of the ACARA Board, I would like to present our annual report for 2018–19.

A mission statement should succinctly represent the common purpose of an organisation to which all its people are deeply committed. In the 11 months I have had the privilege of chairing the ACARA Board, I am pleased and proud to say that this is indeed the case for ACARA; this is an organisation that lives and breathes its mission to improve the learning of all young Australians through world-class curriculum, assessment and reporting.

It has been 10 years since ACARA commenced operations as the national body responsible for developing and assisting with the implementation of the national curriculum, conducting the national assessment of literacy and numeracy achievement, and public reporting on progress.

Now that the Australian Curriculum is being implemented around the country, ACARA's curriculum focus has shifted to providing support and resources for teachers and schools to assist them in implementation. We have also been researching curricula and emerging curriculum trends from around the world to inform advice to Education Ministers about ongoing and future refinements and improvements to the curriculum to ensure Australia stays at the global forefront for the quality of its Foundation – Year 12 education. In 2018–19, we released key findings from four international comparison studies that examined and compared our curriculum with those of other high-performing countries – Finland, Canada (British Columbia), Singapore and New Zealand.

In responding to key recommendations from Gonski 2.0, we embarked on a joint project with our colleagues at Education Services Australia (ESA) and the Australian Institute of Teaching and School Leadership (AITSL) to explore how learning progressions and formative assessment can support teachers in making evidence-based decisions about student learning. In recognising the profound importance of this work in shaping how we assess and support our children's educational progress, Education Ministers have made this a national priority for education.

The National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) has also surpassed the ten-year mark. As the only national assessment taken by all Australian students, NAPLAN serves as a national health check on how our young people are progressing in the fundamental areas of literacy and numeracy. This year was the second year of transition in shifting NAPLAN from pen and paper to online delivery. As with all large technology-related projects, this has not been without its challenges. There is, however, no doubt that moving online will deliver greater precision of performance assessment and the true benefits of online assessment will be more fully realised once all schools are online.

Along with Education Services Australia and our state/territory education stakeholders, we continue to work towards all students moving successfully to NAPLAN Online and in turn, experience a more engaging test and a quicker turnaround of results and information on how students are performing in literacy and numeracy.

I would like to thank and acknowledge the leadership provided to ACARA by Australia's Education Ministers as members of the Education Council, and thank Board members, ACARA's executive, staff and stakeholders for their valuable contribution throughout the financial year.

I look forward to addressing the challenges and opportunities presented over the coming year as we continue to realise our mission to improve the learning of all young Australians.

Ms Belinda Robinson FAICD
Chair, ACARA Board

1.2 CEO's report

2018–19 was a year of change and innovation for us at ACARA. I first joined the organisation as a Board member in 2017 before being appointed CEO in March 2019, and in that time, I have become immensely proud of what we are doing to improve the learning of all young Australians.

We brought our digital technologies expertise to some of the most disadvantaged schools in the country – more than 160 schools, over 2,300 teachers and some 30,000 students have benefitted from this project that sees nine of our curriculum officers supporting primary and secondary school teachers in implementing the Australian Curriculum: Digital Technologies.

We also strengthened our commitment to supporting teachers in implementing the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Histories and Cultures cross-curriculum priority in teaching the Australian Curriculum: Science. We did this through the publication of almost 100 elaborations and accompanying teacher background information for Years 5–10 science students, and the development of illustrations of practice showing two-way science in remote Aboriginal communities.

The release of our second Reconciliation Action Plan – Innovate – reaffirms our commitment towards reconciliation, as we strive to foster equality and equity between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students and non-Indigenous students in learning outcomes.

We aim to achieve this by providing a culturally inclusive curriculum, culturally safe assessments, and by enabling all staff and students to have the opportunity to develop a deep knowledge of, and respect for, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples, histories and cultures.

This was the second year of transition to NAPLAN Online. Research released in February 2019 showed that parents generally support the move to online assessment and saw the move online as a natural progression. Parents also generally believed online testing would improve NAPLAN and result in a more engaging experience for students.

In May, up to 50 per cent of schools around the country took part in NAPLAN Online, compared with 15 per cent in 2018. The connectivity issues experienced on the first day of testing, with substantial numbers of students being adversely affected, was regrettable. We will work to ensure future years of testing deliver on one of the key objectives of NAPLAN Online: namely a simpler, more efficient and more engaging experience for students and schools.

We will continue working closely with state and territory education departments and Education Services Australia to bring the benefits of online assessment to life.

While I have only been in the role of CEO of ACARA for a short time, following the departure of my predecessor Robert Randall in early 2019, I am inspired by the commitment of ACARA's people and am proud to lead an organisation so dedicated and focused on its mission – to improve the learning of all young Australians.

Mr David de Carvalho
CEO, ACARA

Work samples have been published to support the published curriculum across all learning areas, with samples for some of the languages yet to be done. Work samples for four languages F–10 (French, Japanese, Chinese, Italian) were published in November 2018. Work samples for F–10 German and F–4 Humanities and Social Sciences (HASS) were published in March 2019. Work samples for F–10 Spanish and Y5–6/7 HASS were published in June 2019.

Analysis of performance

Monitoring, evaluation and research

In January 2019, ACARA published the Monitoring the effectiveness of the Foundation – Year 10 Australian Curriculum 2017–18 report, which focused on technology demands in the curriculum, and literacy and numeracy demands across the curriculum. Responses were received from departmental, school and curriculum authorities in most states and territories. Feedback showed broad satisfaction with the Australian Curriculum, including the Digital Technologies curriculum and the ICT capability, and the place of, and emphasis on, literacy and numeracy. There was a clear indication that further clarification, advice and support materials in each of these areas would be welcomed by teachers and schools.

During the 2018–19 period, ACARA continued to collect and review evidence to inform advice to Education Council on refinements to the Australian Curriculum. An international comparative study with the New Zealand Curriculum was published in February 2019. This, along with the three completed international comparative studies – Finland, Singapore and British Columbia – informed a report of key findings published in February 2019. These key findings examined the purpose of the curriculum, role and function of competencies and values, flexibility of student progress, nature of content, presentation of content and achievement standards, student agency, strategies to address diversity, and strategies to address indigenous perspectives.

ACARA continued to lead Australia's participation in aspects of the OECD Education 2030 project, contributing to the preparation of an international curriculum analysis report. ACARA's involvement included the completion of a policy questionnaire, curriculum content mapping and the Mathematics Curriculum Document Analysis (MCDA) project. To gain further insights into emerging curriculum models, ACARA also collaborated with the Center for Curriculum Redesign to explore the implications of applying a conceptual framework to identifying essential content and skills in Mathematics.

Support and resources for implementation

ACARA produces work samples to demonstrate student knowledge, skills and understandings in relation to the achievement standards of the Australian Curriculum. To facilitate the collection of work samples, ACARA conducted a series of workshops across the states and territories in English, Mathematics, Science, History and Languages. These workshops included professional learning in task design.

In the reporting period, work samples were published in the Humanities and Social Sciences (HASS) and Languages learning areas. The publication of these work samples ensured that teachers and schools now have access to these types of resources in all learning areas in the Australian Curriculum. Work samples for F–4 HASS were published in March 2019 and Years 5–6/7 HASS in June 2019. Work samples in F–10 French, Chinese, Japanese and Italian were published in November 2018; F–10 German, in March 2019; and F–10 Spanish, in June 2019.

Work continues on the expansion of the work sample portfolios, including the provision of samples in the other languages subjects as well as the revision and replacement of the existing portfolios in English, Mathematics, History and Science.

Four new illustrations of practice were published on the Australian Curriculum website in March 2019. These were filmed in remote and very remote schools in Western Australia and the Northern Territory, exemplifying ways of incorporating the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Histories and Cultures cross-curriculum priority using the newly published (October 2018) Science elaborations.

ACARA was funded by the Australian Government Department of Education to develop illustrations of practice that present exemplary practice in using the Australian Curriculum, in particular, the general capabilities, to implement rigorous career education programs. This project supports the National Career Education Strategy. Nine illustrations of practice were published in June 2019.

Supporting the implementation of the Digital Technologies curriculum

ACARA continued to manage the National Innovation in Science Agenda, Digital Technologies in Focus project. Approximately 160 disadvantaged schools in urban, rural and remote locations across all states and territories are participating in this project. Curriculum specialist support is provided for each of the schools, with the integration of technology being showcased through the publication of school stories, resources and professional learning modules on the Digital Technologies in Focus section of the Australian Curriculum website.

Incorporating the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Histories and Cultures cross-curriculum priority

In October 2018, ACARA published an additional 95 elaborations to the F–10 Australian Curriculum: Science content and related teacher background information for Years 7–10 to better support teachers to incorporate Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Histories and Cultures into their teaching of science. In May 2019, teacher background information was published for Years 5–6, with F–4 teacher background information to be published by the end of 2019. Illustrations of practice modelling the use of these elaborations were published in March 2019.

Planning commenced to develop content elaborations for addressing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Histories and Cultures in the F–10 Australian Curriculum: Mathematics.

Learning progressions and online formative assessment initiative

In 2018, education ministers agreed that learning progressions and online formative assessment should be national priorities for education. In May 2019, ACARA, along with ESA and AITSL, commenced work on a six-month discovery phase to explore how learning progressions and formative assessment can enhance the capacity of teachers to make evidence-based decisions about their students' learning. The discovery phase is focusing on three main areas: the development of learning progressions and aligned assessments; engagement with teachers to understand what they need and how they want to be able to work; and research into effective practices. A report on the findings from the discovery phase is due to be considered by education ministers at the end of 2019.

Linkage with the National Assessment Program

The National Assessment Program (NAP) is directly linked to Australian Curriculum content. Specific advice on using the Australian Curriculum: Digital Technologies and the ICT capability was included in the 2017 NAP Sample Assessment: ICT Literacy report, published in November 2018. The curriculum specialist for HASS supported revision of the assessment framework for Civics and Citizenship to incorporate History and provided advice on the development and trialling of test items. The curriculum specialist for Science commenced an analysis of student results in the 2018 NAP: Science Literacy.

NAPLAN 2019

In May 2019, NAPLAN tests were administered in both paper and online modes, with approximately 670,000 (50 per cent) students in over 5,200 schools in all states and territories participating online. This was a significant increase on the 15 per cent of students who completed NAPLAN Online in 2018, with Northern Territory and Tasmania participating in NAPLAN Online for the first time.

Prior to the tests in May, NAPLAN Online schools participated in school readiness testing and platform readiness testing. Students familiarised themselves with the item types during the practice test.

On the first day of testing on 14 May, technical disruptions prevented some schools and students from finalising the online writing test. AESOC agreed to conduct a resit on 28 May for students affected by the disruptions. AESOC commissioned a wide-ranging investigation into the cause(s) of the technical disruptions to address the issues for future assessments.

NAPLAN 2018

From August to September 2018, NAPLAN 2018 individual student reports were distributed by jurisdictions, providing parents and carers with an opportunity to identify their child's strengths and achievements in the areas of literacy and numeracy, and to identify any areas where attention is required. This included information on the mode of testing; that is, paper or online.

The 2018 NAPLAN summary information (preliminary results) was published on 28 August 2018. The 2018 NAPLAN National Report and test incident report were both published on 8 April 2019. The NAPLAN 2018 Technical Report was published on 28 June 2019.

NAP – ICT Literacy 2017

The 2017 NAP – ICT Literacy public report was approved by the Education Council and published on ACARA's NAP website on 13 December 2018, together with the 2017 NAP – ICT Literacy technical report and school release materials for Years 6 and 10.

The 2017 NAP – ICT Literacy public report expands on its previous iterations by including a 'Curriculum connections' chapter. This chapter explores the results of the 2017 National Assessment Program – ICT Literacy with a view to providing information to teachers and curriculum specialists on how the Australian Curriculum: ICT capability and the Australian Curriculum: Digital Technologies can be used to support the teaching and learning of ICT literacy.

NAP – Science Literacy 2018

Between October and November 2018, the sixth assessment cycle of NAP Sample – Science Literacy (NAP–SL) was successfully conducted online.

Approximately 5,600 Year 6 students (in 350 schools), and for the first time, 3,000 Year 10 students (in 205 schools), across all states and territories, participated in the sample assessment. All schools received a summary report showing student responses compared to the national percentage of correct answers for each item and showing links to the Australian Curriculum: Science.

Supporting statement

Following the NAPLAN 2018 online administration, ACARA implemented the following activities to improve the processes for NAPLAN 2019:

- strengthen the equating methodology by including both online and paper students in the information used for linking results back to the historical NAPLAN scale
- enhance the involvement of jurisdictions in planning and implementing post-test analytics.

In 2018, ACARA worked with accessibility experts nationally to improve access for students with disability to the NAPLAN online tests. All questions in NAPLAN Online can now be accessed by keyboard. For students with an audio and/or visual disability, who cannot access some questions, the platform automatically substitutes these questions with alternatives.

Analysis of performance

During the reporting period, ACARA worked with Education Services Australia (ESA, the agency responsible for the online assessment platform) to assure that the NAP tests were delivered to users as expected. ACARA undertook quality assurance and certification of items, targeted test design and related platform functionalities, including the functionality delivered via the low-no bandwidth (LNB) solution.

A number of key school and student online readiness activities were conducted. ACARA developed items, constructed tests, provided supporting materials and undertook quality assurance testing for each event:

- The School Readiness Test (SRT) was conducted in schools on 20 August – 12 October 2018. ACARA provided omnibus tests for each year level, as well as a writing test. Over 3,800 schools across all states and territories participated in SRT.
- The Platform Readiness Test (PRT) was conducted in a sample of schools on 8 October – 29 November 2018 and on 4–15 February 2019 as a full end-to-end test of the platform and post-test processes, including monitoring, reporting and quality assurance. ACARA provided branching tests for all domains for all year levels. In 2019, ACARA was also responsible for conducting testing of the LNB solution.
- School Practice Testing occurred from 25 March to 26 April 2019 in preparation for the May 2019 NAPLAN Online test event. ACARA provided omnibus tests for this event, which were tailored to reflect the item types present in the upcoming NAPLAN tests.
- A full set of more than 140 demonstration tests was constructed to showcase the range of accessibility improvements that were available for NAPLAN 2019. These demonstration tests are available publicly on the NAP website, providing a valuable resource throughout the year.

In addition, NAPLAN administration documents (for online and paper modes), such as the National Protocols for Test Administration and Handbook for Principals, were updated by ACARA and provided to jurisdictions.

The National Report on Schooling data portal was updated in December 2018 and April 2019 with the second release two weeks behind schedule due to delays with the source data.

The data portal provides interactive access to a number of national data sets for schooling, covering general statistics on schooling, and the nationally agreed key performances measures (KPMs) for schooling specified in the Measurement Framework for Schooling in Australia 2015.

ACARA undertook a review of the Measurement Framework for Schooling in Australia in consultation with jurisdictions and school sectors through ACARA and AESOC advisory groups. The revised draft Measurement Framework (2019) was endorsed by the ACARA Board in May 2019 and submitted to AESOC. In June 2019, AESOC deferred submitting the draft framework to Education Council, pending decisions on related matters.

Analysis of performance

The My School website was updated on 10 April 2019. It was released in accordance with Education Council directions relating to the content and form of the 2018 NAPLAN results to be published on the My School website, agreed to by the Education Council at its meeting in February 2019. ACARA worked with states and territories to finalise the presentation of 2018 NAPLAN data on the website.

As with previous releases, the My School 2019 release included an additional year's data for existing fields. In summary, the key data collections released included:

- NAPLAN data: 2008–2018
- school profile data: 2008–2018
- finance data: 2009–2017
- VET in schools data: 2010–2017
- post-school destination data: 2010–2017.

In 2018 the Education Council commissioned a review relating to NAPLAN data presentation on My School. The findings from that review documented strong public support of reporting of NAPLAN information via the My School website. However, recommendations included reviewing the quantity and focus of NAPLAN data displayed on My School.

The data portal was updated in April 2019 with the latest data on schools and schooling, including: updates to the 2018 school key performance measures

- counts of schools, students and staff for 2018 and other results from the Australian Bureau of Statistics Schools Australia 2018 publication
- school enrolment and retention rates
- school finance data.

During the reporting year, ACARA continued to provide access to the data collected by ACARA for third parties under the Data Access Protocols 2015.

The Australian Schools List website was updated quarterly.

Reporting of senior secondary outcomes progressed to initial data collection.

During 2018–19, ACARA convened four meetings with its Foundation – Year 12 Curriculum Reference Group and four meetings with its National Assessment, Data, Analysis and Reporting Reference Group. These groups provided high-level advice on issues, options and solutions to ACARA’s executive in support of ACARA’s strategic objectives.

Regular meetings were held with ACARA's four main advisory groups: the National Test Working Group, the Measurement Advisory Group, the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Advisory Group and the Students With Disability Advisory Group, while other shorter-term engagement occurred with the Finance Data Working Group, the Marking Quality Team, the NAP Sample groups, and others, on an 'as-needs' basis.

ACARA worked throughout the year with its consultative bodies: the Curriculum Directors Group, the NAP National Communications Group and the Peak Parent and Principals Group.

It also held a series of partner and stakeholder briefings in advance of major releases for those not formally participating in ACARA-run groups and supported them with a raft of high-level one-on-one meetings led by ACARA's Chair, Deputy Chair and CEO.

ACARA attended all relevant Education Council and AESOC meetings and participated as a speaker as required. It also attended meetings of the government-run Schools Policy Group and Data Strategy Group as an observer and participated in the government-run Online Accessibility Working Group as a member.

Throughout 2018–19, ACARA led and managed national communication initiatives for NAPLAN Online and produced communication resources for use by jurisdictions, the non-government schooling sectors and a range of peak bodies.

In addition, ACARA continued to undertake research and consultation with experts from around the world to ensure ACARA's work is informed by best practice and maintains world-class status.

Analysis of performance

ACARA attended all scheduled meetings of the Education Council, AESOC and related working groups – the Data Strategy Group, the Schools Policy Group and the Online Assessment Working Group – with feedback received shaping ACARA's work across the areas of curriculum, assessment and reporting. Advice was also provided through its advisory groups and key associations during the reporting period.

The review of the terms of reference of key groups and membership improved the focus on the purpose of each group.

ACARA began active involvement in progressing an important national initiative relating to learning progressions and formative assessment. In this work, ACARA collaborated with Education Services Australia, the Australian Institute for Teaching and School Leadership, and key government partners, on a discovery phase.

Collaboration with the Center for Curriculum Redesign (CCR) continued into 2019–20, as well as ACARA's participation in the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development's (OECD) 2030 project.

Stakeholder engagement

ACARA contributed to a range of reviews and inquiries throughout 2018–19, including the 2018 NAPLAN Technical Review (September–November 2018), the Review of the Melbourne Declaration (via an exploratory forum held in February 2019), and the Review of NAPLAN Data Presentation (October 2018 – June 2019).

In keeping with the goal of enhancing its national and international reputation as a leader in curriculum development and national assessment, ACARA hosted, and shared insights with, a number of visiting delegations. These included Hong Kong, Georgia, Myanmar, New Zealand, China, Vanuatu and Bangladesh.

It also participated as a speaker or panelist in over 18 conferences and seminars nationally and internationally including:

2.5 Operational capability

Purpose

ACARA will recruit, develop and retain high-performing staff and will foster positive and agile work culture. Its people will reflect the diversity and dynamism of the education community and will have the skills and values needed to support ACARA’s ongoing responsibilities as well as advance the authority’s strategic proposals.

Supporting statement

ACARA experienced a high level of turnover with ongoing staff in 2018–19, with 20.83 per cent (total of 10 ongoing staff) having departed the organisation. This was not due to any particular event, nor was it a cause for concern based on exit surveys. It should be noted that a high number of senior leadership personnel departed over the 12-month period (including the CEO, Director Business Services, and General Manager Assessment & Reporting, whose contracts were concluding). This had a cascading effect within the respective units of the organisation.

Benchmarking for ACARA’s staff turnover is against the overall Australian Public Service (APS) rate. As at 31 December 2018*, the APS separation rate for ongoing staff was 9.5 per cent.

* 2018–19 APS metrics were unpublished at the time of preparing this report.

Management and accountability

3.1 Corporate governance

Enabling legislation and functions

ACARA is an independent statutory authority and a corporate Commonwealth entity established under Section 5 of the Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority Act (the ACARA Act) on 8 December 2008.

The ACARA Act outlines the authority's functions, which are to:

- develop and administer a national school curriculum, including curriculum content and achievement standards, for school subjects specified by the Education Council's charter for ACARA
- develop and administer national assessments
- collect, manage and analyse student assessment data and other data relating to schools and comparative school performance
- facilitate information-sharing arrangements between Australian government bodies in relation to collection, management and analysis of school data
- publish information relating to school education, including information relating to comparative school performance
- provide school curriculum resource services, education research services and other related services
- provide information, resources, support and guidance to the teaching profession, and perform other related functions.

There were no changes to ACARA's enabling legislation in 2018–19.

Directions and reporting

Section 7 (3) of the ACARA Act requires ACARA to perform its functions and exercise its powers in line with the charter set by the Council of Australian Governments' (COAG) Education Council. ACARA's strategic directions are set by its charter and any other written instructions from the Education Council. ACARA reports to the Education Council on progress against its charter each year. ACARA reports to the federal minister for finance and the federal minister for education about requirements under the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013 (the PGPA Act).

Responsible minister

The Australian Government Minister for Education (the Minister) is the responsible minister for ACARA.

From 1 July 2018 to 28 August 2018, the Minister for Education and Training was Senator the Hon Simon Birmingham.

From 28 August 2018 to 30 June 2019, the Minister for Education was the Hon Dan Tehan MP.

Governance framework

ACARA's governance framework provides the structure for informed decision-making, risk management and accountability. The framework has its foundation in the ACARA Act, which establishes a 13-member governing body. The ACARA Board includes a chair, a deputy chair and other members representing states, territories, Catholic schools and independent schools. Each member is appointed by the Minister by written instrument, with the agreement of the Ministerial Council.

The Board is accountable to the Parliament of Australia through the Minister. The Board is responsible for ensuring the proper and efficient performance of ACARA and is the accountable authority under the PGPA Act.

Among other responsibilities, ACARA Board members are required to disclose to their fellow directors any material personal interest they may have in matters relating to the affairs of the authority. Information about procurement undertaken by ACARA is tabled at each meeting so that Board members can disclose potential or actual conflicts. A record of all disclosures is maintained by ACARA.

Further information about the Board, including membership, can be seen at 3.2 The Board.

ACARA's governance and advisory structure allows for input and advice from key stakeholder groups and experts. This advice assists the executive in making recommendations to the ACARA Board and to the Education Council. It also supports ACARA in achieving the objectives of its charter in a consultative and collaborative way.

An overview of ACARA's advisory groups in 2018–19 can be seen on the following pages.

3.3 Risk management

ACARA has a risk management framework in place, which sets guidelines for risk management at all levels of the organisation, including stipulating ACARA's risk appetite in various domains.

The aims of ACARA's management framework are to:

- enable ACARA to proactively identify and manage its risks in a systematic and structured way
- integrate risk management process into strategic and business planning
- promote risk awareness and attention to the ongoing review, treatment, monitoring and reporting of risks throughout the organisation.

The structure of ACARA's documents and the corresponding implementation process, including terminology, assessment and evaluation criteria, are based on the standard for risk management, ISO 31000, and align with guidance material issued by the Australian Government Department of Finance.

Fraud control

Under the Australian Government legislation, there is a requirement for all agencies to have a fraud control plan. ACARA has a fraud control policy and plan in place to satisfy this requirement, which were reviewed and endorsed during 2018–19.

The core objectives of ACARA's fraud control policy are to identify potential fraud risk categories to which ACARA is exposed and to outline responsibilities for fraud control.

ACARA has also undertaken fraud risk assessments and has in place appropriate mechanisms that meet the specific needs of ACARA for preventing, detecting, investigating and dealing with fraud. In the 2018–19 period, ACARA took all reasonable measures to prevent fraud and have systems in place to appropriately deal with any detected instances of fraud relating to the entity.

3.4 Financial management

ACARA is an independent statutory authority and a corporate Commonwealth entity that manages funding in accordance with its Charter. Its funding is approved by the Education Council, which has endorsed a 50 per cent contribution by the Commonwealth and 50 per cent contributions by state and territory governments.

ACARA also delivers priority projects on behalf of the Commonwealth government, which provides a separate revenue source above its Charter funding.

ACARA manages all funding in compliance with government policy, guidelines and legislative requirements, where applicable. ACARA's financial accountability and reporting responsibilities are set out in section 46 of the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013 (PGPA Act) and are based on efficient, effective and ethical use of allocated resources. ACARA works within a financial control framework, which ensures that ACARA administers its responsibilities appropriately and effectively.

Analysis of financial performance

ACARA reported a deficit of $0.61M for the year ended 30 June 2019. This deficit reflects additional costs associated with the NAPLAN 2019 paper test development, due to Education Council agreeing to extend the implementation of the transition to NAPLAN Online. The savings generated from the unused NAPLAN Online writing marking funds in 2017–18, which were held in ACARA's reserves, accommodate this deficit.

At 30 June 2019, the cash and cash-equivalent balance of ACARA was $7.95 million. Where cash and cash-equivalents exceeded ACARA's at call requirements, they were transferred to investments in accordance with ACARA's investment strategy.

The following pie graph provides a breakdown of ACARA Program Expenditure for the year ended 30 June 2019.

ACARA's diverse workforce brings to the organisation a valuable range of skills and expertise, helping foster productive relationships within the education sector. Many staff members are considered experts in their fields, bringing to their roles important local and international experience. They have been recruited or seconded from positions within state or territory education departments; curriculum, assessment and certification authorities; non-government school sector; federal and state government agencies; and private sector. This means that ACARA's workforce reflects the complexity and dynamism of Australia's education community.

A key aspect of ACARA's work involves collaboration with a broad network of advisory and reference groups from states and territories. Although members of these groups are not represented in ACARA's staff profile, they make a significant national contribution to ACARA's work and achievement.

Leadership

As part of the HR strategy, greater emphasis has been placed on talent management, development and engagement at ACARA. Leadership remains a key capability for our managers, and ACARA has actively supported a specific focus on developing leadership capability through a leadership program. The program uses a blended learning approach in its delivery and impact.

In 2018–19, all managers and executives participated in training, coaching and forums each quarter. The Senior Management Group (SMG) was invited to participate in a 360-feedback process in March 2018. This feedback, while anonymous, is highly valuable for our SMG members to further build their leadership capability.

Improvements in leadership at ACARA are evident with the Leadership Program, in conjunction with conversation-based performance reviews, changing both perception and demonstrated leadership amongst managers. The Leadership Forum content and delivery are owned and driven by the CEO and executive, engaging all leaders at ACARA across at all locations on a range of topics from strategic to operational leadership.

Reconciliation action plans

ACARA committed to its first 'Reflect' Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) in 2017 to support staff in learning about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories and cultures, and to contribute to the journey towards reconciliation.

Over the course of 2018–19, ACARA continued to be guided by this RAP, including:

- marking dates of cultural significance for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, including the anniversary of the Apology to the Stolen Generations, National Reconciliation Week, NAIDOC week, Indigenous Literacy Day and the anniversary of Paul Keating's 1992 Redfern Park Speech
- presenting Acknowledgment of Country at the beginning of all-staff meetings
- in collaboration with ACARA's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Advisory Group and Reconciliation Australia, developing an 'Innovate' RAP based on learnings, challenges and achievements of the 'Reflect' RAP.

Building on lessons learnt through the Reflect RAP process, on 31 May ACARA proudly launched its second RAP – 'Innovate' – during the National Reconciliation Week. Commitments within the new RAP will help ACARA gain a deeper understanding of its sphere of influence and establish the best approach to advance reconciliation.

ACARA's second Reconciliation action plan 'Innovate' was launched during National Reconciliation Week 2019

3.6 Reporting on other requirements

Evidence to parliamentary committees

ACARA attended the following hearings of the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee to give evidence:

- Supplementary Budget Estimates (25 October 2018)
- Additional Estimates (21 February 2019).

Judicial decisions and reviews by outside bodies

There was no decision by the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) in relation to ACARA's operations during this reporting period.

There were no reports made about ACARA's performance or ACARA's officers or employees by the Auditor-General, parliamentary committees, the Commonwealth Ombudsman, or the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner.

Compliance with the PGPA Act

During 2018–19, ACARA maintained appropriate internal controls and processes to review its compliance with the finance law, including to ensure that instances of significant non-compliance were notified to the responsible minister in accordance with section 19 of the PGPA Act. ACARA identified no instances of significant non-compliance and did not report any non-compliance to the Minister for Education in the reporting period.

Work health and safety

Work health and safety (WHS) at ACARA covers a broad range of elements that bring together a common goal to provide a workplace where people feel safe and are not at risk of physical or mental injury.

ACARA's training program is a key area of how the organisation ensures staff understand their obligations and ACARA's role in providing and maintaining a safe workplace. This training takes the form of inductions and online refresher courses, where workers learn about ACARA's WHS policy; their legal WHS responsibilities; emergency evacuation instructions; how to report hazards, incidents and injury; workstation ergonomics and manual handling.

WHS information is provided to staff on the importance of maintaining an understanding of work-related risks. Presentation themes include mental health, being active at work and travelling to and from work. Emphasis is placed on mitigating work-related risks to avoid physical or mental injury.

ACARA's commitment to providing a safe workplace is implemented through its WHS Committee. The committee promotes awareness of WHS in the workplace and meets every three months to discuss health and safety issues identified by staff, or hazards that have been identified during workplace inspections.

ACARA's Perth office has a WHS representative on the committee to provide training to new workers, identify any hazards and report WHS issues. Regular WHS audits ensure continued improvement.

WHS performance

During 2018–19, no new claims were submitted to Comcare. No provisional improvement notices (section 90, Work Health and Safety Act 2011), prohibition notices (section 195) or improvement notices (section 191) were issued. There were no investigations undertaken by Comcare arising out of ACARA's responsibility in 'conducting a business or undertaking', in accordance with the Act.

ACARA's Audit and Risk Committee is advised of any issues arising and the actions carried out to mitigate WHS risks.

In 2018–19, consistent with the legislative requirements of the Work Health and Safety Act 2011, ACARA aimed to provide and promote a safe and healthy workplace by:

- eliminating or reducing the risk of hazards
- encouraging health initiatives; for example, by providing fruit to all staff and installing sit-to-stand desks in the Sydney office.
- arranging for influenza vaccinations to be available for all staff at no charge
- providing access to the Employee Assistance Program
- introducing a functional first aid room with amenities to support staff, including those returning from parental leave
- conducting a training program to cover laws and regulations around workplace bullying and harassment, as well as educate staff on their responsibilities
- conducting regular workplace inspections and encourage reporting of any incidents or hazards.

Insurance and indemnities

During 2018–19, ACARA held insurance, protecting directors and officers from liability for the consequences of managerial misconduct or negligence, to the extent that the provision of the indemnity is not prevented by applicable legislation.

Ministerial directions

No policy orders have been issued by the Australian Government under the PGPA Act.

Ecologically sustainable development and environmental performance

ACARA continues its commitment to ecological sustainability across its operations. During 2018–19, ACARA continued to embed the use of new technologies and improve flexible workplace practices. This was enabled by means of initiatives:

- ACARA's Sydney office commenced collecting plastic bottle caps for Envision, an Australian organisation that recycles plastic bottle tops to make prosthetics for hands and arms, and mobility aids, for people in need.
- Video-conferencing facilities are used in Sydney and Perth offices as a preference to travel, wherever possible.
- ACARA continued its recycling program through its Sydney office tenancy. Items that are recycled include glass, paper, metal, plastics and printer cartridges.

In our opinion, the attached financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2019 comply with subsection 42(2) of the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013 (PGPA Act), and are based on properly maintained financial records as per subsection 41 (2) of the PGPA Act.

In our opinion, at the date of this statement, there were reasonable grounds to believe that ACARA, the Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority, has sufficient funds to meet its debts and will be able to pay its debts as and when they fall due.

This Statement is made in accordance with a resolution of the directors.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Minister for Education

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements of the Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority ('the Entity') for the year ended 30 June 2019:

- (a) comply with Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements and the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability (Financial Reporting) Rule 2015; and
- (b) present fairly the financial position of the Entity as at 30 June 2019 and its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended.

The financial statements of the Entity, which I have audited, comprise the following statements as at 30 June 2019 and for the year then ended:

- Statement by the Accountable Authority, Chief Executive Officer and Acting Chief Financial Officer;
- Statement of Comprehensive Income;
- Statement of Financial Position;
- Statement of Changes in Equity;
- Cash Flow Statement; and
- Notes to and forming part of the Financial Statements, comprising a Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and other explanatory information.

Basis for opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with the Australian National Audit Office Auditing Standards, which incorporate the Australian Auditing Standards. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report. I am independent of the Entity in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements for financial statement audits conducted by the Auditor-General and his delegates. These include the relevant independence requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) to the extent that they are not in conflict with the Auditor-General Act 1997. I have also fulfilled my other responsibilities in accordance with the Code. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Accountable Authority's responsibility for the financial statements

As the Accountable Authority of the Entity, the Board of Directors is responsible under the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013 (the Act) for the preparation and fair presentation of annual financial statements that comply with Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements and the rules made under the Act. The Board is also responsible for such internal control as the Board determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board is responsible for assessing the ability of the Entity to continue as a going concern, taking into account whether the Entity's operations will cease as a result of an administrative restructure or for any other reason. The Board is also responsible for disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the assessment indicates that it is not appropriate.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

My objective is to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian National Audit Office Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian National Audit Office Auditing Standards, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Accountable Authority;
- conclude on the appropriateness of the Accountable Authority's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease to continue as a going concern; and
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

I communicate with the Accountable Authority regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

Budget Variances

1. Receipts from Government – Australian Government - Funding from the Australian Government and industry bodies for project work in Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting.
2. Interest – Invested operating funds in short term deposits to maximise funding outcomes.
3. GST – The net outcome from the recovery of GST on supplier payments and GST collected on invoices raised was anticipated to be higher.
4. Other cash received – Receipt of royalties and sale of data to government agencies and schools
5. Employees – The organisation experienced a higher staff vacancy including several executive positions. The organisation's 2018-19 workplan involved a number of additional projects over the prior year, resulting in higher employee expenses.
6. Suppliers – The use of secondees, casual staff and contractors to service short term project engagements and specialised work.
7. Purchase of property, plant and equipment – Anticipated purchases of new computer equipment were not required.

Variances are considered to be "major" based on the following:

- The variance between budget and actual is greater than 10%; and
- An item below this threshold but which is considered important for the readers understanding or is relevant to an assessment of the discharge of accountability and to an analysis of performance of ACARA.

1. Overview

1.1 Objectives of the Entity

The entity is a corporate not for profit Commonwealth entity. The entity is structured to meet the following outcome:

Outcome 1: Improved quality and consistency of school education in Australia through national curriculum, national assessment, data collection and performance reporting system.

The continued existence of the entity in its present form and current programs is dependent on Education Council policy, and on continued funding by Commonwealth, State and Territory governments.

1.2 Basis of Preparation of the Financial Report

The financial statements are general purpose financial statements and are required by section 42 of the Public Governance, Performance and Accountability Act 2013.

The financial statements and notes have been prepared in accordance with:

- Financial Reporting Rule 2015 (FRR); and
- Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations – Reduced Disclosure Requirements issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) that apply for the reporting period.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accrual basis and are in accordance with the historical cost convention. Except where stated, no allowance is made for the effect of changing prices on the results or the financial position. The financial statements are presented in Australian dollars and values are rounded to the nearest thousand dollars unless otherwise specified.

1.3 New Australian Accounting Standards

The new accounting standards that were issued prior to the sign-off date and are applicable to the current reporting period have no material effect on the entity's financial statements.

Adoption of New Australian Accounting Standard Requirements

Standard/Interpretation	Summary
AASB 9 Financial Instruments	ACARA has adopted AASB 9 from 1 July 2018. ACARA has receivables at year end and under the standard there are new impairment requirements which use an 'expected credit loss' ('ECL') model to recognise an allowance. Impairment is measured using a 12-month ECL method unless the credit risk on a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition in which case the lifetime ECL method is adopted. For receivables, a simplified approach to measuring expected credit losses using a lifetime expected loss allowance is available. The adoption of new Accounting Standards and Interpretations did not have any significant impact on the financial performance or position of ACARA as at 30 June 2019 or on opening retained earnings as at 1 July 2018.

No accounting standard has been adopted earlier than the application date as stated in the standard.

1. Overview (Cont'd)

Future Australian accounting standard requirements

New standards, amendments to standards, and interpretations issued by the AASB are applicable to future reporting periods with ACARA still to determine the financial impact on the ACARA financial statements.

Standard/Interpretation	Applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after	Summary
AASB 16 Leases	1 January 2019	AASB 16 Leases removes the classification of leases as either operating or finance leases for the lease, effectively treating all leases as finance leases. This will effectively move all off-balance sheet operating leases onto the balance sheet, in a similar form as the current finance lease accounting. This change is expected to result in the full disclosure of the ACARA's lease exposures for the Sydney and Perth office with asset and liabilities being reflected in the ACARA Statement of Financial Position.
AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058 Income of Not-For-Profit Entities	1 January 2019	AASB 15 establishes a comprehensive framework for determining whether, how much and when revenue is recognised. It replaces existing revenue recognition guidance, including AASB 118 Revenue, AASB 111 Construction Contracts and IFRIC 13 Customer Loyalty Programmes. Under AASB 1058 the timing of income recognition will depend on whether a transaction gives rise to a performance obligation, liability or contribution by owners. ACARA sought independent expert advice on the application of these standards. The report has confirmed there will be no change to the recognition of contribution revenue. The recognition of project revenue is expected to change from percentage of work complete to performance obligations, where these are detailed in the contract. ACARA has assessed revenue recognition from current projects and the change is not expected to have a material impact on the revenue.

1.4 Leases

A distinction is made between finance leases and operating leases. Finance leases effectively transfer from the lessor to the lessee substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of leased assets. An operating lease is a lease that is not a finance lease. In operating leases, the lessor effectively retains substantially all such risks and benefits.

Operating lease payments are expensed on a straight-line basis which is representative of the pattern of benefits derived from the leased assets.

1. Overview (Cont'd)

In June 2016 ACARA entered into a four year lease for office accommodation at 280 Elizabeth St Sydney; this lease was effective from 1 August 2016. In December 2016 ACARA entered a six-year lease for office accommodation at 140 St Georges Terrace Perth; this lease was effective from 1 December 2016. The Perth lease has a break point option which ACARA can exercise to exit the premises on 31 August 2020. In February 2019, ACARA entered into a one year lease with Melbourne Business Centre effective from April 2019. Operating lease commitments shown in the table below include the office accommodation at 280 Elizabeth Street Sydney (13 months remaining), 140 St Georges Terrace Perth (41 months remaining) and Melbourne Business Centre (9 months remaining).

	2019 $'000	2018 $'000

Within 1 year	803	643
Within 1 to 5 years	344	990
Within 5 to 10 years	-	-
Total operating lease commitments	1,147	1,633

1.5 Cash

Cash and cash equivalents include notes and coins held and any deposits in bank accounts with an original maturity of 3 months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and subject to insignificant risk of changes in value. Cash is recognised at its nominal amount.

1.6 Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

Contingent liabilities and contingent assets are not recognised in the Statement of Financial Position. They may arise from uncertainty as to the existence of a liability or an asset, or represent an existing liability or asset in respect of which settlement is not probable or the amount cannot be reliably measured. Contingent assets are disclosed when settlement is probable but not virtually certain and contingent liabilities are recognised when the probability of settlement is greater than remote.

1.7 Taxation

ACARA is exempt from income tax. All other forms of taxation are applicable.

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of GST except:

- where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office; and
- for receivables and payables.

1.8 Insurance

ACARA has insured for risks through the Government's insurable risk managed fund, Comcover. In addition, ACARA holds a Workers' Compensation policy with the Government's insurer Comcare.

1. Overview (Cont'd)

1.9 Comparative changes due to prior year error

Where required by Accounting Standards comparative figures have been adjusted to conform with changes to presentation for the current financial year.

A change has been made to the comparative figures in the Cash Flow Statement to reclassify an amount of $1,204,653 from payments to Suppliers and Net GST Paid to Net GST Received. This change was made to conform with changes to presentation in the Cash Flow Statement for the current financial year. The impact of this change was limited to a reclassification adjustment within the net cash received from operating activities in the comparative period.

1.10 Events after Reporting Period

Other than noted below, no matter or circumstances have arisen since the end of the financial year which significantly affected or may significantly affect the results of the financial statements as at 30 June 2019.

On 8 July 2019, ACARA has accepted a proposal to extend the lease on the current Level 13, 280 Elizabeth Street, Sydney office, by 6 years to 31 July 2026. Under the proposal, the operating lease commitments will increase by:

	$'000

- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the entity;
- The stage of completion of the transaction at the end of the reporting period can be measured reliably;

When the outcome of the transaction involving the rendering of services cannot be estimated reliably, revenue shall be recognised only to the extent of the expenses recognised that are recoverable.

Interest Revenue

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest rate method as set out in AASB 9 Financial Instruments.

Resources Received Free of Charge

Resources received free of charge are recognised as revenue when, and only when, a fair value can be reliably determined and the services would have been purchased if they had not been donated. Use of the resources is recognised as an expense.

3. Financial Position (Cont'd)

3.2 Non-Financial Assets continued

Infrastructure, Plant and Equipment

Asset recognition threshold

Purchases of property, plant and equipment are recognised initially at cost in the statement of financial position, except for purchases costing less than $2,000, which are expensed in the year of acquisition (other than where they form part of a group of similar items which are significant in total).

The initial cost of an asset includes an estimate of the cost of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located.

Depreciation

Depreciable plant and equipment assets are written-off to their estimated residual values over their estimated useful lives to ACARA using, in all cases, the straight-line method of depreciation.

Depreciation rates, residual values and methods are reviewed at each reporting date and necessary adjustments are recognised in the current, or current and future reporting periods, as appropriate.

Depreciation rates applying to each class of depreciable assets are based on the following useful lives:

Office Fitout

Other Furniture and fittings

Equipment

	2019	2018
Life of Lease	Life of Lease
4 years	4 years
3 years	3 years

Impairment

All assets were assessed for impairment at 30 June 2019. Where indications of impairment exist, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated and an impairment adjustment made if the asset's recoverable amount is less than the carrying value.

The recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of the future cash flows expected to be derived from the asset. Where the future economic benefit of an asset is not primarily dependent on the asset's ability to generate future cash flows, and the asset would be replaced if the entity were deprived of the asset, its value in use is taken to be its depreciated replacement cost.

Derecognition

An item of plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no further future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal.

Payables are recognised to the extent that the goods or services have been received and not paid or where payments for services have been received in advance.

(b): Grants in advance (deferred revenue)

States & Territories grants – contributions

Commonwealth project funds

Total Grants in advance

17,884	10,868

Grants Received in Advance

At 30 June 2019 the amount of deferred revenue was $17,884,040 (2018: $10,868,199) and primarily represents future annual contributions from the Commonwealth along with State and Territory jurisdictions and project work funding, for expenditure to be incurred in future financial years for the delivery of ACARA's Work Plan and project contracts.

4. People and relationships

4.1 Employee Provisions

1,154	1,215

Employee Benefits

Liabilities for services rendered by employees are recognised at the reporting date to the extent that they have not been settled.

Liabilities for short-term employee benefits (as defined in AASB 119, Employee Benefits) and termination benefits expected within twelve months of the balance date are measured at their nominal amounts.

The nominal amount is calculated with regards to the rates expected to be paid on settlement of the liability. All other employee benefit liabilities are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

Leave

The liability for employee benefits comprises provision for annual leave and long service leave. No provision has been made for sick leave as all sick leave entitlements are non-vesting and the average sick leave taken in future years by employees of ACARA is estimated to be less than the annual entitlement for sick leave.

The leave liabilities are calculated on the basis of the employees' remuneration at the estimated salary rates that will be applied at the time the leave is taken, including ACARA's employer superannuation contribution rates to the extent that the leave is likely to be taken during the service rather than paid out on termination.

The liability for long service leave has been determined by reference to the Australian Government shorthand method. In applying this method, the accrued long service leave for each employee as at reporting date is probability weighted, based on the Australian Government probability profile. The amount obtained for each employee is then discounted, using the ten-year Treasury bond rate. The estimate of the present value of the liability reflects the attrition rates and pay increases through promotion and inflation.

Superannuation

Upon commencing employment with ACARA, employees nominate an approved superannuation scheme of their choice.

ACARA contributes a minimum of 10.5% of superannuable salaries on behalf of its employees. The liability for superannuation recognised as at 30 June 2019 represents outstanding contributions for the final month of the year.

4. People and relationships (Cont'd)

4.2 Key Management Personnel Remuneration

Key management personnel are those persons having authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of ACARA, directly or indirectly. ACARA has determined the key management personnel to be the Directors, Chief Executive Officer and the Executive staff reporting to the Chief Executive Officer. Key management personnel remuneration is reported in the table below:

The total number of key management personnel that are included in the above table are 22 individuals (15 Directors and 7 ACARA Executive staff) in 2018; 23 individuals (16 Directors and 7 ACARA Executive staff).

1. The above key management personnel remuneration excludes remuneration and other benefits of the Education Minister. The directors of ACARA are appointed by the Minister for Education. The remuneration of the Minister of Education and other benefits are set by the Remuneration Tribunal and are not paid by ACARA.
